

What special memories do you have of this school year?

An illustration of five diverse school children in a schoolyard. On the left, a girl with brown hair in pigtails and a blue dress is running towards the right. Behind her, another girl with brown hair is walking. In the center, a girl with dark skin and curly hair, wearing a light blue dress, is walking. To her right, a boy with dark skin and short hair, wearing a blue shirt and dark blue trousers, is waving. On the far right, a boy with light skin and short brown hair, wearing a white shirt and blue trousers, is also waving. They are all standing on a grey path in front of a school building with large windows and a red roof. There are green bushes on the left side of the building.

Welcome to

Our End of the Year

Assembly

It has been an amazing year...

We have learnt lots...

We have laughed lots...

But now it's the end...

and time for the holidays.

What are you looking forward to?

playing with friends

going on holiday

spending time
with family

Now that it's the end...

What will you miss?

seeing school
friends

lessons and learning

seeing your teachers

Time for change!

Look positively at the new year ahead. It is a time for changing classes and a new beginning.

You may be going into a new key stage or even a new school.

Time for change!

What are you most looking forward to?

making new friends

learning new skills

Do you have new year nerves?

It's natural to be nervous about something new.

What might you be nervous about?

meeting new children

meeting new teachers

going into a new classroom

getting used to a new school
or a different part of school

Do you have new year nerves?

If you are nervous, what could you do to help yourself?

A positive change!

Change can make us nervous but that's OK because everyone gets nervous sometimes!

A new start can mean we meet new people, make new friends and learn new skills.
