

Attach objects to the bottle to see if they propel the boat. I am looking for which objects around the house can propel a boat. I want to find out if my predictions are right about which would and which would not propel the boat. Because it is an experiment on comparing them. How are you going to understand what works best. I am going to put it in the bathtub and twist the object 25 times to see if it propels.

That the waterproof card and the lollipop stick wouldn't work although the shoe horn would work a little bit. I knew the medicine thing would work and I was right.

Object:

Did it work?

Prediction:

Water proof card.

A little bit.

I didn't think this one would work.

Lollipop stick.

Not really.

I thought it would be a little bit than the previous.

Shoe horn.

No the band wasn't strong enough.

I thought it would work better.

Medicine thing.

YES!

I knew it!
